

Action Plan (As in the EE Guidelines, p. 74)

The following diagram shows how you can start to think about an action-orientated approach to environmental education. This process should always be evaluated as you work through it, to check that you are headed towards your decision.

