DOC Weldable bands:

Locally sourced and injection-moulded they have the option of holding a RFID tag. They are sealed using a battery-operated soldering iron.

These bands were designed and tested for hihi and black robin. Please get in touch if you want to investigate this option for other species.

If your colour choice is not listed here, check with us as our supply may have changed

3-D printed bird legs for banding training

These legs represent only the bone, so they're thinner than that of a live bird. You can paint them with nail varnish and sew them onto puppets for realistic training (puppets in photos not for sale).

Price listed is for one leg only per species – left and right options are listed where available and can be ordered separately. Note that these are fragile and should be handled with care (as you would a live bird!).
